

Little River Band

On Sunday, October 10, Little River Band will perform at the Seafood, Wine & Music Festival at Frank Brown Park. Little River Band was formed in Melbourne, Australia in 1975. The original members came from other successful Australian acts from the '60s and '70s...Glenn Shorrock from The Twilights and Axiom, Beeb Birtles from Zoot (with Rick Springfield) and Mississippi, Graham Goble and Derek Pellicci (also from the band Mississippi), Ric Formosa, and Roger McLachlan.

Probably the most asked question of the band is about the origin of the name. On the way to the newly formed band's first performance in Victoria, Australia, they passed an exit sign for a small town called Little River. The suggestion was made that they should be called Little River Band for that night's performance...it stuck.

The band has been together for 35 years and now resides mostly in Nashville, Tennessee. They currently tour North America, performing their "Adult Rock / Pop" hits all over the U.S. and Canada. The rest of 2010 will take them on 12 shows before Thanksgiving, from Indiana to Florida to Winnipeg...

Little River Band's first airplay was in Florida in 1976, and they feel it's always good to perform in the Sunshine State! For more info visit www.littleriverband.com.
